Dear Sir

Salam Masnoon

I think it is not correct to inquire personally first to know the authenticity. Suppose this mail was not from you and from an anti Islam force. In such a case I would have wasted much of the precious time in arguing in thye matter and by the time the other people who had no such knowledge would have taken it and the damage would have done.

In fact whenever people forward such mails to bulk recipient, I always write back to all of them to save them from possible loss or to make them aware of the mischiefs being done by some forces. Please note that all such mails originate from a source with Muslim or Islamic names which is impossible to verify.

This is a lesson to you too. Never offer a Quran without supporting documents to ensure that it is genuine. In fact instead of me writing this mail YOU should have apprised the readers of this malicious activities of others and how to save oneself from it. This is because you are doing this work and people expect it from you.

Wassalam

Assalamu Alaikum,

I sent you the Attachment yesterday, Salman, so you should have got the Holy Quran by now. You will be able to see for yourself its genuineness. I think you could have emailed me of any of your personal reservations privately [like now], instead of in public hindering others thinking of making the Requests.
